to show cause

Rule 1230. Motion to Quash Proceeding. (a) Within the time permitted to file a response, the respondent may move to quash the proceeding, in whole or in part, for any of the following: (2) That there is a prior judgment between the same parties for the same cause.

CR

- 1 • Rule 1234. Motion to Quash Summons. In a proceeding , a respondent may
- 2 serve and file a notice of motion to quash the service of summons upon the
- 3 ground of lack of jurisdiction of the court over him or a notice of the filing of a
- 4 petition for writ of mandate under the circumstances and in the manner provided
- 5 by Section 418.10 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
- 6 • Code of Civil Procedure § 418.10. Provides for motion to quash challenging the
- 7 court's absence of personal jurisdiction, during which time the court has no
- 8 jurisdiction over the party.
- 9 • Code of Civil Procedure Section 418.10. Defendant May Serve and File Notice
- 10 of Motion to Quash Service of Summons or to Stay or Dismiss Action/Time
- 11 Limit Grounds—Conditions/Default.

(a) A defendant, on or before the last day of his time to plead or within such further time as the court may for good cause allow, may serve and file a notice of motion either or both:

(1) To quash service of summons on the ground of lack of jurisdiction of the court over him.

- 14 • Rule 1230(a)(2) (which deprives court of jurisdiction of personal and subject
- 15 matter jurisdiction if there is a prior judgment).
- 16 • Rule of Court 1230 Motion to Quash Proceeding. (a)(2) That there is a prior
- 17 judgment or another action pending between the same parties for the same cause.
- 18 Civil Code Section 4356. Special Appearance During Pendency of Motion. (a)
- 19 During the time a motion pursuant to Section 418.10 of the Code of Civil
- 20 Procedure is pending, the respondent may appear in opposition to an order made
- 21 during the pendency of this part and the appearance shall not be deemed a
- 22 general appearance by the respondent.
- 23 • Rule 1234.(motion to quash summons).
- 24 • Rule 1234. Motion to Quash Summons. In a proceeding , a respondent may
- 25 serve and file a notice of motion to quash the service of summons upon the
- 26 ground of lack of jurisdiction of the court over him or a notice of the filing of a
- 27 petition for writ of mandate under the circumstances and in the manner provided
- 28 by Section 418.10 of the Code of Civil Procedure.
- Rule 1239(a)(2) (Motion to quash responsive relief on basis of prior judgment).
- Rule 1239. Motion to Quash Responsive Relief. (a) Within 15 days after the filing of
- the response, the petitioner may move to quash, in whole or in part, any request for
- affirmative relief in the response for any of the following: (1) Respondent's lack of
- legal capacity to sue. (2) That there is a prior judgment or another action pending

1 between the same parties for the same cause. (3) That the residence required by Civil
 2 Code Section 4530 is lacking. ... (b) The notice of motion to quash pursuant to this rule
 3 shall specify a hearing date not more than 20 days from the date of filing such notice.
 4 (c) A notice of motion to quash pursuant to this rule shall distinctly specify the ground
 5 upon which the motion is based. Unless it does so, the motion may be disregarded by 6 the court. (d) When a motion to quash pursuant to this rule is based on a matter of 7 which the court may take judicial notice pursuant to Section 452 or 453 of the Evidence
 8 Code, such matter must be specified in the motion or in the supporting memorandum of 9 points and authorities for the purpose of invoking such notice except as the court may 10 otherwise permit.

- Rule 1281 (petition form, limiting causes of action to those stated on the form-- which does not include attacks upon prior judgments).

11 Rule 1281. Petition for Dissolution Form. Form clearly shows that the causes of action
 12 are limited to "proceedings," as defined by Rule of Court 1201(c), to termination of an 13 existing marriage, legal separation from an existing marriage, or nullity of marriage.
 14 There is no provision on the form to attack prior judgments, or previously adjudicated 15 personal or property rights.

16 Black's Law dictionary defines "vexatious proceedings" as follows:

17 Proceeding instituted maliciously and without probable cause. Paramount
 18 Pictures v. Blumenthal, 256 App.Div. 756, 11 N.Y.S.2d 768, 772. When the party 19 bringing proceeding merely wishes to annoy or embarrass his opponent, or when 20 it is not calculated to lead to any practical result. Such a proceeding is often 21 described as "frivolous and vexatious," and the court may dismiss it on that 22 ground. "An appeal [or complaint] is not frivolous if "any of the legal points [are] 23 arguable on their merits ..." Anders v. California (1967) 386 U.S. 738; "The 24 objective standard looks at the merits of the appeal from a reasonable person's 25 perspective. ... whether any reasonable person would agree that the point is 26 totally and completely devoid of merit, and therefore, frivolous. ... an appeal is not 27 frivolous if "any of the legal points [are] arguable on their merits." In re Marriage of

- 6 title is limited by the requirement of the Constitution of the United States that
- 7 full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and
- judicial proceedings of every other state.

- 8 • Civil Code § 5164. Filing of divorce judgment from another state must be

10 Civil Code § 5164. Filing of Decree of Another State With superior Court Clerk--

11 Expenses of Enforcing Decree. (a) A certified copy of a custody decree of another state

12 may be filed in the office of the clerk of any superior court of this state. The clerk shall

13 treat the decree in the same manner as a custody decree of the superior court of this state. A custody decree so filed has the same effect and shall be enforced in like manner as a custody decree rendered by a court of this state.

- 16 • Code of Civil Procedure § 1699: Upon registration the registered foreign support
- 17 orders shall be treated in the same manner as a support order issued by a court of
- this state.
- 18 • Foreign state judgments must be recognized as local judgments.

19 Code of Civil Procedure § 1713.1. Foreign State and Foreign Judgment Defined. As

20 used in this chapter: (1) "Foreign state " means any governmental unit other than the

21 United States, or any state, district, commonwealth, territory, insular possession thereof,

22 or the Panama Canal Zone, or the Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands. (2) "Foreign judgment" means any judgment of a foreign state granting or denying recovery of a sum of money, other than a judgment for taxes, a fine, or other penalty, or a judgment for support in matrimonial or family matters.

- 23 • Code of Civil Procedure § 1713.3. Defines "foreign judgment" as a judgment of
- 24 another nation.

25 Under the Uniform Foreign Money-Judgments Recognition Act (California Code of

26 Civil Procedure Sections 1713.1 (2) defines a "foreign judgment" as "any judgment of a

27 foreign state granting or denying recovery of a sum of money. The foreign judgment is

- Parties to the prior judgment are precluded from attacking the judgment (as is also stated in the 1966 judgment).

6 Code of Civil Procedure § 1910. Parties Concluded by Judgment. The parties are case have been made between them alone, though other parties were joined with both or either.

- Code of Civil Procedure § 1913.Conclusiveness of sister state judgment the same as a local judgment. This conclusiveness is extended to foreign nation judgment by Civil Code §§ 1653(j), 1713.1, 1713.3, 1908, 1913, and 1915.
 • The registration of the 1966 divorce judgment in courts of California, Nevada, Oklahoma, and Texas invokes the protection of the Full Faith and Credit Clause of the United States Constitution, and the statutory embodiment of that clause in California Code of Civil Procedure Section 1913 (as well as Civil Code Section 5004). California Code of Civil Procedure section 1913. Conclusiveness and Effect of Judgment of Sister State:

- The protection of this statute is extended to foreign country judgments by California Civil Code § 5164; California Code of Civil Procedure §§ 1653(j), 1713.1, 1713.3, 1908, 1913, and 1915.
- The full faith and credit clause is statutorily embodied in California Civil Code § 5004.
- Section 5004. Full Faith and Credit Requirements. The application of this title is limited by the requirement of the Constitution of the United States that full faith and credit shall be given in each state to the public acts, records, and judicial proceedings of every other state.

26 Section 5004 reinforces similar protection in California Code of Civil Procedure

- Procedure §§ 1653(j), 1713.1, 1908, 1913, 1915; civil Code § 5165.
- Code of Civil Procedure Section 1713.3. Conclusiveness of Foreign
- Judgment:

"A foreign judgment ... is conclusive between the parties ..." (This protection is extended to foreign country judgments by Code of Civil Procedure § 1653(j),

- Code of Civil Procedure § 1908. Conclusiveness of prior California judgment, and extended to sister state and foreign country judgments by other statutes, including Civil Code § 5172 and Code of Civil Procedure §§1653(j) and 1713.3.

- Code of Civil Procedure Code § 1908. Conclusiveness and Effect of Judgment.

(a) The effect of a judgment or final order in an action or special proceeding before a court or judge of this state [is] ... conclusive between the parties.....

[extended to foreign country judgments by Civil Code Sections 5172, Code of Civil Procedure Sections 1653(j), 1713.3.]

- Recitals in prior judgment are presumed to be true between the parties, including the recital of proper exercise of jurisdiction.

Evidence Code § 622: Recitals in Written Instruments. The facts recited in a written instrument are conclusively presumed to be true as between the parties thereto, or their successors in interest.

- The parties to the prior divorce proceeding in 1965-1966 are presumed to intend the ordinary consequences of their voluntary act.

Evidence Code § 665. Ordinary Consequences of Voluntary Act Intended. "A person is presumed to intend the ordinary consequences of his voluntary act."

- The protection of the quasi estoppel doctrine is further provided by the common law Quasi estoppel doctrine, as articulated in controlling federal law, and in California decisional law, including inter alia, In re Shank's Estate (1957) 154 Cal.App.2d 888: [O]ur courts have recognized another species of estoppel, called 'quasi-estoppel,' which is based upon the principle that one cannot blow hot and cold

- Evidence Code § 666. States that any court of California or of a foreign nation is presumed to have acted in the lawful exercise of its jurisdiction.

Conclusive presumption that the prior court acted in the lawful exercise of its jurisdiction protects appellant against the sole basis stated in the May 10, 1983 decision refusing appellant's motion to quash:

- Evidence Code § 666: Judicial Action Lawful Exercise of Jurisdiction. [A]ny court of this state ... or ... any other nation ... is presumed to have acted in the lawful exercise of its jurisdiction ... when the act ... is under collateral attack.
